Refund Policy

The deposit is non-refundable should the trainee be unable to commence or complete the Teacher Training course. Once you have accepted your place, all course fees are due as per the contract you entered into with YogaBstudio when you accepted your place, except if you cancel your place 60 days or more prior to the course start date.

In the event that any of the YogaBstudio faculty are unable to teach due to injury or health issues, a suitable and qualified replacement teacher will be appointed to teach in their place.

Course Cancellation by YogaBstudio

YogaBstudio reserves the right to postpone or cancel a stated course. In the case of any course cancellation, applicants will be given as much notice as possible. If a stated course is postponed, applicants have the right to retain their place on the new course with the revised dates, in which case all the course fees received are transferred to the new course.

If the revised dates of a postponed course do not suit the applicant and result in the applicant leaving the course, or if YogaBstudio cancels a stated course completely, full refund of all received tuition fees will be offered to the applicant.

Deferral / Transfer to another YogaBstudio Course

It is our aim to always try to find ways of helping trainees complete the training on the course originally applied for. However, we understand that there may be some instances where it is not possible to continue and a deferral to a following YogaBstudio course may be necessary.

If you are considering deferring or leaving the training you should:

1. Inform the Course Director, Bryony Giboin, as soon as possible in writing.
2. We will then discuss your situation and decide on appropriate action or a period of contemplation before making a final decision about the best way forward.
3. If we agree that deferral is the most appropriate action, we will try to find a suitable point in a following training for you to re-join the course.

If a place on another YogaBstudio course is available then, unless there are concerns about your practice, you will be able to pick up the training from the point at which you left on the previous training.

If you or we are unable to place you on the next course, and a place is only available two trainings or more ahead then you may be asked to re-take some or all of the modules that you have taken on the training you left before re-joining the training. If you are required to re-take modules, there is normally a charge per module re-taken, calculated on an hourly rate.

Trainee Leaving the Course

It is our aim and policy to facilitate teacher trainees who may be experiencing difficulties either with the training or in other areas of their life so that they are able to complete the teacher training course. However, we understand that in some circumstances this is not possible, and trainees have no choice other than to leave the course. In this instance:

1. We will not be able to give you a certificate or graduate you from the training.

2. Your course fees for the remainder of the training are still due unless an exemption applies.
3. There is no refund of fees paid for modules, workshops, classes etc. already taken.

Disqualification from the Training

YogaBstudio reserves the right to disqualify trainees at any time during the course for issues of severe misconduct, or if it is deemed by the teaching faculty that a trainee is unfit to teach yoga. The procedure in these cases is as follows:

1. Trainees will be given warning in writing that they are being considered for disqualification. The letter will outline the reasons for such consideration.
2. The trainee may be invited to meet in person with the Course Director to discuss the situation.
3. The Course Director will make a final decision as to whether the trainee may be allowed to continue training or not.
4. The trainee will be able to appeal this decision by writing to the Course Director outlining the reasons for their appeal.
5. The Course Director will consider the trainee's appeal in good faith and will inform the trainee in writing of their final decision. No further appeals will be considered after this decision has been made.
